Genesis – L'Allegro

*A crude Sputnik elemental,
Atom-powered, transcendental!
I've worked seven long years —
Rachel promised for the labor —
Guess it will be Leah —
And seven years more for Rachel's favor.*

*Laban is a hard task-master —
Just casually he said one day,
“A bib of Lincoln poems is sorely needed”
All I know is that heeded.*

*Take a kindly look at me,
World hitch-hiker of seventy-three
Seven years ago due to retire
From purgatory snow and fire —
Thousands who gave me a lift will testify
Two hundred thousand miles of faith is no lie.*

Seven years ago I figured out
By keeping up my pace
It could be done without doubt —
I'd save enough that way
As no foundation I appealed to would pay —
Ford, Lilly, Guggenheim —
For a Lincoln Sputnik — not a dime —
Still when you're three score years and ten
There looms an if, also, and when
If ever you make the full equator
So here is only broadside data: —

*Over a thousand sheets so far found
Covering Lincoln poetry ground—
A broadside with a Lincoln line
I freely take and call it mine,
And go still farther you will see—
Jefferson Davis, Robert E. Lee,
Sherman, Stonewall Jackson, Grant,
Douglas, Johnson, Little Mac,
Sheridan and old John Brown,
Men close to Lincoln wherever found, —
The flag of the North, the flag of the South,
The God of the North, the God of the South. —
Lincoln's words, "Liberty and Union",
For they lead to the altar of world communion. —
So forth, crude Sputnik, on world circling sea
Of peace and brotherhood and liberty.*

Exodus — Il Penseroso

*Hallelujah! brave librarian!
Hope you'll be a centenarian!
To everyone who carefully
Handed a treasured leaf to me,
Not a fig-leaf, but to uncover
A jewel that I should discover -*

*Brown, the prime repository
Of blessed Lincoln's living story -
McLellan, Harris, how they shine
The sun of Lincoln song and rhyme!*

*Providence Public Library -
Harris notated industriously;
Harry E. Pratt and Margaret Flint
Supplied fine data without stint.*

*The Library of Congress got someone
On my data when I first begun
But failed to give the checker's name -
For this omission, take the blame.*

*Chicago, Worcester, and Fort Wayne,
Duke, New York - too few I name -
Almost forgot my Alma Mater -
I plunged into the Harvard crater -
The Athaneum and Boston Pub
Smiled on my work, - bless the Hub!
Hardly know where I am at
For microfilm and photostat -
Moscow, too, has been so fine
Checking Whitman Lincoln - line.*

*Brother, sister, thanks again.
Guess you'd like to say "Amen"
But hold! this is just the start,
A bib of broadsides for the mart,
A Lincoln Song Bib, thousands strong
Is writhing in a wild confusion
A list of poems full twice as long
Cries out for aid, sighs for transfusion:*

*A tin-cup in a beggar's hands
Is held out for the world demands
The soul of Lincoln known shall be,
All souls to free, the world to free.*

— Harold
